ANNUAL REPORT, SIMONE DE BEAUVOIR INSTITUTE, 1991-92

During the June 1, 1991 to May 31, 1992 period, the Institute has undergone considerable changes and improvements in the following areas:

1) Administration: Changes in the administrative structure consisted of the appointment of a new Principal (myself). I have been affiliated with the Institute since 1986 as a SSHRC Research Fellow, and, since 1988, as part-time instructor teaching a unique course I developed for the Institute: "Women, Science, Technology - Historical and Contemporary Perspectives."

2) Faculty Personnel: Changes in the faculty included an additional full-time tenure-track faculty member, Dr. Kaarina Kailo, Assistant Professor in Women's Studies; and a half-time tenure-track faculty member, Dr. Lucie Lequin, who is cross-appointed with the Department of Études françaises.

3) Staff: There were no changes to the support staff. However, the Documentation Centre obtained extended hours for its Documentalist, Joan Kohner, and the services of a student through the work-study programme. Patricia McDaniel was hired for the Fall term and Kristin Palin for the Winter term. Manon Dumas and Zoe Newman both volunteered their time to make the Reading Room more accessible.

4) Resident Fellow, Associate Fellows, Research Fellows and Visiting Fellows (formerly Adjunct Fellows): The Institute has a world-wide reputation and attracts numerous scholars who wish to do research at the Institute. During the 1991-92 year we had 1 Resident Fellow, 13 Associate Fellows, 11 Research fellows (scholars based in or around Montreal who have a long term commitment to feminist research and the Institute), 2 Visiting Fellows. For the list of Fellows, see Appendix A.

5) Student enrolment and participation: In 1991-92, including the summer of 1991, the Institute offered 16 courses and 5 tutorials to a total number of 1293 students, equalling 3879 student credits. Our courses are 3 credit courses. On the average there were five courses of 50 students and the rest had about 20-25 students. The enrolment in the various Women's Studies programmes was as follows: Major: 104, Minor: 16, Certificate: 4, for a total of 124 students. There were a large number of inquiries about the graduate programme in Women's Studies.

Several of our students received recognition for their outstanding academic work:

Elizabeth McDonald received the Thérèse F. Casgrain medal. This medal is awarded to the most outstanding graduating student in Women's Studies.

Monica Wolfe and Ariel Fielding both shared the Provost Entrance Scholarship. This scholarship is for first year students.

Zoe Newman received the Maïr Verthuy Scholarship. This scholarship is awarded to the most outstanding student entering her third year of Women's Studies.

In addition to attending courses and being involved in the intellectual life of the Institute, the students have revived the Women Studies Students Association. WSSA has organized various events, including a workshop on "Women, Environment and Development," and a lecture on Ecofeminism with Helen Forsey. Students take a great interest and pride in the activities of the Institute and are concerned about the future development of Women's Studies. Their representatives participated in the various committees of the Institute.

6) Programmes and curriculum development: During the August-November period, the Principal and faculty of the Institute revised the graduate programme proposal (M.W.S). The Institute's curriculum committee met alone several times, as well as four times with the Concordia Undergraduate Curriculum Committee. With this committee's help and guidance, the old Master's proposal was redesigned and rewritten. It was submitted to Dean Charles Bertrand on October 31, 1991, and was passed without opposition at the November 15, 1991 meeting of the Arts and Science Faculty Council.

7) Research Seminars and Public Events: Under the direction of S de B. Research Fellow, Dr. Barbara Meadowcroft, the Institute had another successful year of research seminars. In order to capitalize on the broad academic expertise of the Institute's fellows, two topics were chosen: Women and Work and The Many Faces of Feminism. See Appendix B.

In addition to the research seminars, the Institute had four main lecture series: Women and Aging, Women and Science, Black History Month and Women Writers. The Institute received financial contribution from the following organisations for its lecture series: the Visiting Lecturers Committee of Concordia University, the Faculty of Arts & Science, the Faculty of Engineering and Computer Science, the Liberal Arts College, the Department of Études françaises, the Department of History, the McGill Centre for Developing-Area Studies and the McGill Centre for Research and Teaching on Women. See Appendix C.

8) Outside Representations: The faculty and fellows of the Institute were very active attending many national and international workshops and conferences. These outside representations allowed scholars at other institutions to become acquainted with the work of the Institute. See Appendix D.

9) Publications by faculty and fellows: The faculty and fellows of the Institute published a long list of articles and books. See Appendix E.

10) Contributions by members of the Institute: The faculty members of the Institute participated in various committees at the Institute, both within the University and with outside organizations. See Appendix F.

11) Institute Publications: The Institute published a double issue of the Newsletter: Vol 11, No. 2/Vol 12, No 1. The main theme of this special double issue is Native Women. No new Reprints were published this year. For a complete list of the Institute publications, see Appendix G.

12) Grants: This year the Fellows of the Institute attracted a total amount of $403,518.00 in grants. See Appendix H.
